Learning: Health Professionals Education
High-quality providers exist in each graduating class at UF’s academic health center because of the teaching and learning that occurs every day in the UF colleges of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health and Health Professions, and Veterinary Medicine. UF Health provides clinical training sites and supervision for these students and for others from colleges and programs across the Southeast to satisfy the requirements to become qualified medical professionals.

$18.4 M
Growth: Scientific and Clinical Research
As private, not-for-profit organizations adhering to state statutes, UF Health Shands and UF Health Jacksonville are responsible for providing support to the UF academic health center for educational and research activities that benefit people throughout the state.

$8.9 M
Healing: Community and Regional Health Services
Our UF Health teams proactively reach out to area residents beyond the walls of our hospitals, physician practices and classrooms to share valuable information about healthy living, illness prevention, medical treatments and disease management. These efforts include health screenings, seminars, mobile clinics, support groups and other outreach services.

$2.4 M
Giving: Donations and In-Kind Services
UF Health Shands and UF Health Jacksonville contribute funds and offer our employee resources to community agencies that help people improve their health, wellness and quality of life. In addition to these investments, our staff generously contribute their own non-work time and make personal donations to support local programs and improve community health.
